City Now Accepting Registration for Fairmont 101
Fairmont 101 allows participants get an inside view of local government

FAIRMONT, WV- March 3, 2015- The City of Fairmont is now accepting applications for the 2015 Fairmont 101 program. The program, in its third year, is designed to educate citizens on the roles and responsibilities of local government. Fairmont 101 is comprised of nine two-hour sessions in the morning or evening with each monthly class focusing on a different department.

“Fairmont 101 allows our citizens to get an in depth look at each department and ask us their questions directly,” said City Manager Jay Rogers. Anyone interested in learning about the operations of the City of Fairmont is invited to join. Tuition for the program is $20, which helps to cover program and graduation materials. Spaces are limited for the classes and are filling up fast.

The application is available on the City’s website at www.fairmontwv.gov/317/fairmont101. Applications and tuition can be submitted online, mailed in, or dropped off to the City Manager’s office with tuition payment. Sessions will begin April 16th. For more information you may contact Marketing & Communications Program Manager, Hanna Weaver at 304-366-6212 ext. 340 or hweaver@fairmontwv.gov.
